

The Leadership in Agricultural Industries Fund was administered by the Department of Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry to support Australian agricultural industry. The government committed $5 million to the Fund with individual grants ranging between $5,000 and $500,000. Activities funded by the program concluded in 2022.

The Fund's objective was to support national agricultural industry organisations to develop leadership capability within agricultural industry representative bodies. Its aim was to build farm leaders' skills so they can better represent their agricultural industry.
