Levies

Levies and charges are imposed at the request of peak industry bodies for:

- animal disease management
- marketing
- residue analysis
- research and development.

Levies and charges are collected on the sale, slaughter and/or live export of animals in the intensive livestock and game industries.

The Australian Government legislates for, collects and disburses the levies and export charges on behalf of industry.

The Levies Revenue Service within the Department of Agriculture, Fisheries and Forestry has responsibility for collection and disbursement of the money.

State government contacts

For issues concerning licenses; regulations and guidelines; and animal husbandry and management (including branding and permits), you should contact the relevant State and/or Local Government Authority. Local authorities should be a first point of contact regarding the raising of animals and environmental and welfare regulations and guidelines.
