

Farms must be accredited with the European Union Cattle Accreditation Scheme (EUCAS) if they want to produce bovine animals that can be used to produce meat for export to the European Union. A farm is an area or land covered by a single Property Identification Code (PIC) under State or Territory legislation. To obtain a PIC please contact your local state representative.

The following documents relate to EUCAS accreditation for farms:

This document outlines the rules of the EUCAS and provides general administrative instructions to those delegated to administer the scheme:
