

Fertile bird eggs can currently be imported into Australia from selected department approved countries only. To bring fertile eggs to Australia, they must meet all of the department's import conditions prior to export.

The Biosecurity Import Conditions system \(BICON\) provides the import conditions for all permitted fertile egg imports.

The information below relates to the importation of fertile eggs (poultry) into Australia.

Source: <https://www.agriculture.gov.au/biosecurity-trade/import/goods/live-animals/fertile-egg-imports>