

In response to the increase in the global movement of seeds for planting and associated phytosanitary regulation, the department held a workshop titled 'The International Clean Seed Pathway' on 7-8 June 2018 in Brisbane.

The objectives of the workshop were:

- to provide a forum for seed producers and users, importers, exporters, researchers and regulators to discuss the concept of an integrated system pathway approach for regulating the phytosanitary health of seed
- to promote and enhance global movement of clean seed pathways.

The workshop was attended by a range of invited stakeholder groups, including producers, importers, exporters, researchers and national and international regulators of seed.
