

As an organisation, we are committed to building a culture where difference is valued and respected, and where we work together and leverage the benefit of our diversity.

Why work for us

Our responsibilities are diverse. Among our many activities, we:

- drive strong biosecurity controls to protect Australia
- set government policy on agriculture, fisheries and forestry
- maintain and secure new markets for Australia's agricultural exports.

We know our best assets are our people.

Apply for a job

We offer a range of jobs in different fields and locations, both in Australia and overseas. Opportunities include permanent and temporary positions, statutory positions and board appointments.

Entry Programs

We participate in several programs that recruit and develop promising new talent. These include the:

First Nations people

We recognise the important perspective First Nations people bring to our work. We actively build a culturally safe workplace and encourage you to apply for a job with us.

The department supports First Nations initiatives through our Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) by identifying how we will support, build, and improve relationships with First Nations people in our department and the community.

People with disability

We support the employment and career development of people with disability. We create an inclusive and supportive workplace for our staff.

Graduates

We offer a special program for graduate employees. After completing the program, you will become an ongoing staff member.

Gender equality

We strive for a workplace where we support all genders to reach their full potential.

Culturally and Linguistically Diverse (CaLD)

We recognise the value that colleagues from a CaLD background add to our workplace and foster an inclusive workplace.

LGBTIQA+ Pride

We prioritise cultivating a safe and inclusive workplace for all our LGBTIQA+ colleagues and encourage active allyship.

Benefits and conditions

We provide our employees an inclusive workplace, competitive salaries, generous leave entitlements and flexible work arrangements.

We provide our employees with:

- an inclusive workplace
- competitive salaries
- generous leave entitlements
- flexible work arrangements.
