

The department produces a range of publications and reports on aspects of Australian forestry. These cover information on Australia's native forests and plantations, Regional Forest Agreements, and international forest and forestry related activities.

Please visit the departments' publications page for a full list of forestry publications.

The Australian Bureau of Agricultural and Resource Economics and Sciences (ABARES) also publish statistics and reports relating to Australian forestry. These are available from the ABARES publications webpage.

Source: <https://www.agriculture.gov.au/agriculture-land/forestry/publications>